Welcome

At The Park Hotel Pandy, you will receive a warm and friendly welcome from the proprietor and staff. Ideally placed between the historic town of Abergavenny and the city of Hereford you can experience some of the most beautiful natural attractions that South Wales has to offer – from the Wye Valley, the most romantic valley in Wales, to the Black Mountains.

Conveniently located at the foothills of the Black Mountains, the Hotel is close to Llanthony Abbey, where you can visit or admire the real glory of the ruins from the Hatterall Ridge on the descent into the sylvan Vale of Ewyas – an uplifting experience. Offa's Dyke, the ancient border between England and Wales, can also be followed along this route.

Both the Hotel Bar and Restaurant are open to non-residents and is popular with locals and tourists alike. Using fresh, local produce, we aim to produce food to suite your individual tastes.

The Hatters Bar & Bistro Restaurant

The Park Hotel has been recently refurbished combining the old with the new. The Hatters Bar for pre-dinner drinks still has its original fire place with oak wood paneling serving real Welsh and English locally brewed ales.

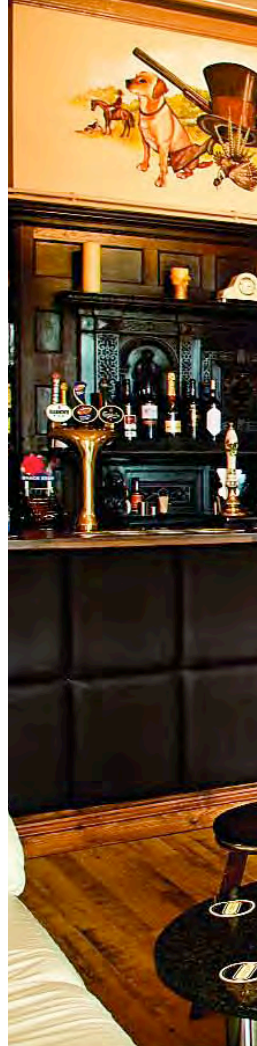

The Hatters Bistro style restaurant is light filled and very modern with views of the Hatterall Hill – a most pleasant setting.

The restaurant is open from midday and serves International cuisine made from the freshest and highest quality ingredients from local suppliers such as Vin Sullivan's.

Austrian and German signature dishes, along with Welsh Black Beef fillet steak and Welsh Lamb can be found with something sure to please everyone, wheel chair accessible and families welcome.

With our delightful staff looking after your every need, you can be sure to have a pleasant and unique dining experience every time you visit.

Special dietary requirements are catered for on request and an extensive vegetarian choice is available.

The Park Hotel's manicured garden is in abundance with flowers, trees and wild life and is the idyllic place to relax on a fine summer's day or evening.

With fabulous views of the Black Mountains, our sun trapped garden has patio table and chairs and many original features dating back belonging to the original 18th century house.

Beautifully unspoilt country views of the Hatterall Hill, The Skirrid, Holy Mountain and surrounding Black Mountains can be seen from within the Hotel grounds and rooms.
